TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Estimating Australia provided us with assistance for a large civil construction project. As an international construction company, local knowledge was vital. Peter assisted us with local market conditions entailing materials pricing, wages, office staff, project managers and subcontract packages, as well as advising us with business structures, licensing, taxation and more.

Someone was always available to discuss our needs and had reliable, detailed solutions to all situations.

We have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending Estimating Australia to anyone. We have no doubt that they will be as satisfied as we have been with the service they will receive.
